

Carlos Fanucchi
General Manager Brazil
Corsidian

Carlos Fanucchi holds the position of General Manager for Brazil, and is responsible for the operation and growth of Corsidian within the country, resulting in high levels of customer satisfaction. His main target is to continue growing market share in Brazil and neighboring regions.

Before joining Corsidian as General Manager in 2005, Carlos Fanucchi's career spanned a wide range of telecommunications and technology companies including Hypercom, Vivo, Lucent, Alcatel, and NEC Brazil.

As Director of Network Unit for Hypercom in the years preceding his role with Corsidian, Fanucchi was responsible for support engineering for second-level and commercial areas of the IP/SDTN(POS) network unit.

He developed Corsidian's Brazil subsidiary, tripling its gross revenue and increasing its responsibility margin by 3.5 times between 2006 and 2010.
